Chapter 1 - Jesus Christ

The inculturated and intercultural Church reflecting the initiative of salvation for each man, willed from all eternity by the Most Holy Trinity, and the third millennium of the Christian era being henceforth launched with the New Evangelization, which remains a universal expression of going beyond the geographical dimension traditionally linked to the concept of mission country, Jesus, fill the Holy Father and his brothers in the episcopate with your graces so that they can model their unified pastoral theologies to perfection on this reality, supported by synodality, as a service rendered to the human race.

The globalized digital environment allows almost unlimited access to information and knowledge available to everyone by eliminating, most often, their retention and by abolishing geographical distances; Jesus, you are the universal, immutable, intangible truth that sets free and the final goal of man is to share the timeless and imperishable happiness of God. Beloved Son of the Father, always strengthen me in the power of love to perpetuate my responsible adhesion to your person and to adore you eternally.

Jesus, you who are the first and the supreme evangelizer of the world and who assume all created things, never abandon the catholic Church so that it continues to advocate a preferential option for the poor with their vulnerabilities and to honor the truth which emerges from all world culture in order to participate fully in the advent of the renewed and ordered universe.

The global process of the New Evangelization, of which it is necessary to consider each of its components in its fusion with the others, validated by the magisterial continuity of the Church and which implies a growth of integral human development leading to a solid, stable apostolate and fruitful, is on the move in the secularized world which stagnates in illusion and chatter; Jesus, constantly enlighten the Holy Father so that he can safely pilot the boat of your people to the port of salvation and the eternal kingdom while constantly provoking the creativity of the faith of the faithful with a view to arousing to be ecclesial in action.

Jesus, even if sometimes the mystery of human suffering and evil remains here below without a satisfactory answer for many, even incomprehensible for the greatest number, I believe in your love and in your redemptive work for all.

Master of intelligences, teach me to live the Gospel daily in simplicity, illuminate the sanctuary of my conscience with the light of truth and increase in me the full knowledge of the science of the New Evangelization which faces the global cultural galaxy and globalized transmodern social current.

Jesus, to be integral, the New Evangelization, seen as a formal call to holiness by God to every man of every nation, is an instrument of divine grace which is always and above all lived in the Church, that is to say in a human community united by social and fraternal relations drawing their legitimacy from the Most Holy Trinity to announce the Good News with the luminous force of charity; spread peace, unity, efficient organization and harmony in the parishes of all the dioceses of the world as bright signs of the coming Kingdom of Heaven.

King of the Church, you know my weaknesses, my fragilities, my wanderings, my shortcomings and the abyss of my misery better than myself. You alone are able to save my soul; by my own industry I am powerless to achieve the union of love. Without you I am nothing. Help me to have an effective integral style while propagating the permanent imperative of the New Evangelization in a report adapted with finesse to the context of the global village.

While some men continued to want to impose on the world a Godless reality created exclusively by their own thoughts, which ultimately left the field open to the father of lies and engendered the spiritual death of souls, under the impulse of the Holy Spirit, Jesus, you came to proclaim a transcendent salvation offered to every man of every country as a gift of grace and ordering it to the timeless spiritual kingdom. Jesus, I need your help and that you live in the substance of my soul. Jesus, I offer you my life without any restrictions
