My deep gratitude goes straight to the Lord Almighty God who gave me the breath of life and especially the inspiration to put in written form the various revelations that are bubbling in His heart for His people.

First of all, to my wife and the mother of my children, the charming Monique Mbiya, who endured the task of advising me and supporting all the sacrifices during the time I was isolated and engaged in the writing of my books.

Secondly to my children and grandchildren.

My special thanks to those who supported me in the ministry, Pastor Corneille Mpiana, Pastor Leonidas Muganda, Prophet Aaron, Dr. Désiré Mbayo, Prophet Jean Claude Mukendi, and our godfather Valentin Mbuyi.

May the Reverend Daniel Ayoola find through these lines my gratitude for his technical contribution in correcting this work.

Foreword

We live in a world where we don't need to create crises because they search us and mingle within our everyday lives. These crises are multifaceted: diseases, war, volcanoes, tsunamis, earthquakes, conflicts, deaths, persecutions, poverty, divorces, divisions, etc.

In his virulent anger, the devil is unleashed by resorting to his tricks to disorient and weaken man to lead him to deny the love of God. The Holy Scriptures mention this in Revelation 12:7. Undoubtedly, humankind is at all times under aggression coming from the prince of this world of darkness in his fury to cause misfortune to the Land and the Sea: The devil wants to finish off man to fulfil his mission to steal, destroy and kill (John 10:10).

Let us look at what is happening in the Middle East, Africa, the Democratic Republic of Congo, and worldwide to realize how wicked Satan is. A simple glance around us is enough to see that we are in the presence of two forms of realities: things that happen by the will of nature, whether explained or not, and something that goes beyond our human understanding because they come from the supernatural world. I have read this fabulous book before I put my comments.

Jean TSHIBANGU, by the depth of the content written under divine inspiration, strives to open the eyes of God's children by showing them that Satan is not as weak as some may imagine, he is strong, and he is active in today's world to steal, destroy and kill. There are excellent reasons to believe in its existence and reserve a few lines for its manoeuvres, even if some claim or seem to ignore him.

Jean provides this book by clearly presenting the ways of escape for God's children who suffer because of satanic oppression. No matter the size of your Goliath, you will find the right weapons that will bring you joy and make you happy.

It is time to move from the perpetual defeat zone to the regular victory zone, resulting in a stable and peaceful life. Satan is the oppressor, and Jesus is the LIBERATOR.

This book is for those who want to live a life of victory over all the crises enemy can cause.

Reverend Titus Ayoola DANIEL

The World of Weaponry

Is there a condition of war in the spiritual world? That is the fundamental question to which everyone expects to receive the correct answer. My answer is undoubtedly, yes, a great Yes given the Word of God as repeated through John's visions in the book of Revelation. Who are the belligerents? On one side, we have the Kingdom of God, and on the other, the kingdom of Satan. Each one engages his followers.

As disciples of Jesus Christ, we stand on the side of the Kingdom of God. Our enemy is Satan, like a roaring lion looking for whom he may devour (1 Pet. 5:8). And if you wear all the armor of God, you are not even able to use these weapons effectively, then the enemy will devour you. Therefore, today more than ever, every mature and knowledgeable Christian should be on the lookout, dressed in all the armor of God and a permanent position of War.

Before writing this book, I felt the Holy Spirit teaching and empowering me on the subject. So many have written on this subject, and I read some books. Knowing that I was nothing new I could add up, but he was still speaking to me, inspiring me toward a different way of grasping the truth about spiritual weapons. Whoever reads this book will feel spiritual that I have taken it seriously, and it is an anointing book. I am sure, and I recommend it.

The world, in its globality, lives in psychological fear of what can happen at any time and place, uncertainty, what could happen tomorrow, and how to be free. So people said: Those who like peace should prepare for War. That justifies why great nations are constantly improving their weapons. Indeed, these nations have an impressive arsenal of weapons, such as intercontinental ballistic missiles, long- and medium-range missiles, drones, etc. They try to show off their weapons to deter their opponents.

From time to time, they occasionally show their respective strengths in parades or military exercises, including England, France, Russia, Japan, China, the United States of America, Germany, and some others.

Warfare has always led to the most significant leaps forward in technology, with each country constantly striving to get the most advanced and latest technology armaments to protect their interests at home and abroad. Seemingly drawing inspiration from science fiction, the latest and greatest advancements in military hardware and future weaponry paint a scarily accurate and dangerous view of the world of warfare in coming years. I have tried to visit military sites to find out the latest weaponry made to attack and defend.

Victory in spiritual battle rests on proper armor and appropriate weapons. That is what the Apostle Paul is trying to say in his Epistles to the Ephesians and Corinthians. He urges the Church to put on the divine weapons for this War, not made with human hands. That is what this book is all about. My concern is to open the eyes of God's children so they can use the powerful and divine weapons that can lead them to victory in this fight against Satan.

Looking at today's weapons, we are deeply impressed and anxious about what will happen the day these great nations fire on one other. Daily, each of these countries is investing in improving their armaments, so those sophisticated twenty years ago have become obsolete today. The old armor is no longer used for War; it is exposed in museums, shop windows, or inside buildings. Some of the weapons of the time of the Apostle Paul, such as the helmet and the soldiers' armor, have survived many developments.
