I. Introduction

I consulted a voodoo priest who specializes in Fâ divination to find out what the years 2025 and 2026 hold in store for the USA, France and Belgium. In the voodoo cult, when you need to know the future or even the hidden things of the past and present, you turn to Fâ.

In West Africa, among those who remain attached to tradition, no important decision is taken without consulting the Fâ. Despite the advent of Christianity and Islam, the vast majority of the peoples of the world retain the traditions of their ancestors. This tradition is Voodoo or Vodun, found in Benin, Togo, Ghana and Nigeria, among the Fon, Gouns, Ewe, Aja and Yoruba peoples.

— Fâ is consulted to shed light on events of the past, present and future, and to provide guidance and solutions to questions facing the person seeking its help. The oracle can guide the individual and answer yes or no to a particular question, but it can also deliver a message and reveal a secret unknown to the individual.

The fâ can advise or advise against a particular behavior or food. It also specifies the deities to whom offerings should be made in order to solve a given problem, and the nature of the offerings to be made to these deities.

Let's take the example of a man who wants to marry one of the 3 women he knows. If he is in doubt, he can turn to the wisdom of the Fâ to guide him towards the one with whom he will share a happy and lasting union.

He goes to a Fâ priest for the consultation. He takes a seat next to the Fâ on the small stool the priest has provided. He places a banknote on the Fâ's mat, along with a yellow coin, as a consultation fee. The Fâ priest shuffles the seashells on the Fâ mat, gathers the 3 Fâ pearls and crushes a little clay over them. Each of the 3 Fâ pearls is made up of 8 shells. The priest holds them in the middle, and when he throws them, the result is 4 to the left and 4 to the right. Each shell can assume only 2 positions: either closed or open.

The Fâ priest starts by throwing the middle pearl, then the right and finally the left.

Here's the priest's answer to the man who wishes to choose a wife from among the 3 women he knows.

— The Fâ says Anna really loves you, but you mustn't get your hopes up because her family won't agree. When you want to pay her dowry, some members of her family will object and advise her to marry another, richer suitor. If you really want to have her, and avoid this unpleasantness in the future, Fâ indicates that we'll have to make Sacrifices to Tohossou. The sacrifice to Tohossou will also be valid to remedy the harmful effects of the abortion she has already performed once, which could harm your happiness.

The customer takes the pebble, pronounces the second name and asks: "If I marry H  l  ne, would it be good for me?"

The priest's answer after the throw:

— As far as H  l  ne is concerned, the F   says that if you marry her, you'll become even more prosperous financially, but you'll have to be very gentle and patient with her, as she can get easily upset. You will make a sacrifice to Dan for this union.

— As far as this third person is concerned, F   sees a very great incompatibility between you. Love will be great at first, but there will be a quarrel and separation after a few years. Remind me of her name.- Her name is Am  lie

— The chances of your union lasting are very low, but if you want to commit yourself to her at all costs, you'll have to make offerings to the deities Hoho (twins) and Sakpata (king of the earth).

II. Prophecy about the USA

I met with a Fâ priest to find out about the future of the USA in 2025 and 2026.

II.1. The USA in 2025

To the question: will the United States of America be happy in 2025? The Fâ answered in the affirmative. The resulting sign is "Ablavi Goulètè", also known as "ABLA GBO LETE".

In Fon, the ABLA GBO LETE sign reads:

— koklossou man do amlonwo adalamonwodah towéto nangni mindévoto".

Here's the translation: The rooster doesn't sleep; if he does, people will come and take away his father's country while he's still alive.

— Fâ's advice to the person receiving this sign:

The person who has this sign must remain vigilant, otherwise he will lose many things. In everything he undertakes, there will always be rivalries. But if he makes sacrifices concerning this sign, he will be a leader in his business or company. He must worship VODOUN SAKPATA and DAN to have his life saved.- Interpretation for the USA in 2025, the USA will have to remain vigilant. There will be many rivalries, but they will dominate the world. There are enemies who covet their power, their wealth and wish to wrest their inheritance with a burning desire. If they make sacrifices to the appropriate deities, their success will be even more glittering.

Some say that the USA is currently ruling the world through its excessive influence over several states. The Fâ does not go against such an opinion, since it predicts that the USA is destined to rule the world in 2025.

After interpreting the central sign and the border signs, the Fâ priest says he sees prosperity in the USA. An increase in wealth. To ensure that this prosperity is effective and maximized, Fâ advises US authorities to make offerings to the deities Sakpata and especially Dan Aïdowhedo. Sakpata is the God of the earth, Dan Aïdowhedo is the rainbow serpent, one of the most complex deities whose main element is air, but who is also found in water and on land. The Snake Divinities are called Naga by the Indians. Yoga practitioners also claim that the Serpent God is also to be found in man, in the form of a fiery serpent below the spinal column, known as kundalini.
